We live these values in our daily dealings with each other as well as in the cooperation with our business partners, i.e. suppliers, representatives and other service providers who contractually work for INTRONYX. We expect our business partners to regard these values as their own when dealing with their employees and third parties - this is the only way we can act sustainably.

- Reliability of the company's statements to employees and business partners.
- Authenticity as agreement of the behaviour of the INTRONYX employees with our basic principles.
- Professionalism as an increased level of knowledge, skills and abilities for employees and business partners of INTRONYX GmbH.
- Entrepreneurship as discovery and responsible use of business opportunities.

Consequences

Any breach of the principles and requirements set out herein shall be considered as a crucial breach of the contractual relationship by the business partner. In case of suspicion of non-compliance, INTRONYX will demand information about the respective circumstances.

INTRONYX reserves the right to terminate contractual and business relationships with such business partners who demonstrably do not comply with the principles written down herein and who also do not take any measures for improvement.
